The Central Land Council is committed to providing a safe workplace. The CLC recognises that it has a primary duty of care to its employees, traditional Aboriginal land owners and other persons in relation to the work the CLC undertakes.

The CLC will provide a safe environment for all employees, constituents, contractors and visitors at all the places we work. Our people and their involvement and commitment to safe work make our organisation successful.

The CLC will do so by:

- Implementing safe systems of work which meet legislative requirements. Our responsibilities and system framework is outlined in our Work Health and Safety Management Arrangements.
- Consulting with and educating our employees in safe work practices and their responsibility to work safely.
- Regularly monitoring how well we safely work by internal and external audits and seeking to improve what we do measuring our performance against safety objectives and targets.
- Identifying risks and implementing controls to reduce risk to as low as reasonably practicable.
- Encouraging safety leadership throughout the organisation and to celebrate safety achievements.
